- Have been damaged in a single accidental event — we don't cover gradual damage to retaining walls.

We'll pay for the cost of repairing the wall to the condition it was in immediately before the loss.

We'll also pay for the following things if they are directly necessary for the work to the retaining wall or part of the retaining wall that has suffered loss.

- Gaining access to the wall.
- Stabilising the soil.
- Providing footings and drainage materials.

We may pay more for retaining walls if they're valued over $80,000

We may pay more than $80,000 to repair retaining walls, if:

- when making a claim you give us a valuation for your property, issued by a qualified valuation or construction expert or professional, like a quantity surveyor, qualified valuer, or builder
- the valuation was done before the loss
- the valuation separately identifies the replacement value for all retaining walls
- your sum insured reflects the total replacement value for your home as shown in the valuation.

If all the above circumstances apply, we'll pay up to the value of the retaining walls identified in the valuation.

How we define replacement value

When we say replacement value in this benefit, we mean the amount that would be required to completely rebuild your home to the replacement condition if your home was totally destroyed.

Any amount we pay under this benefit, we'll pay out of your sum insured.

- Have been damaged in a single accidental event — we don't cover gradual damage to retaining walls.

We'll pay for the following things if they are directly necessary for the work to the retaining wall or part of the retaining wall that has suffered loss:

- gaining access to the wall
- stabilising the soil
- providing footings and drainage materials.

We'll repair or rebuild the retaining wall to the replacement condition.

We won't pay for any undamaged parts of the retaining wall.

The most we'll pay for loss to retaining walls is $80,000 for any one event.

We may pay more for retaining walls if they're valued over $80,000

We may pay more than $80,000 to repair or replace retaining walls, if:

- when making a claim you give us a valuation for your property, issued by a qualified valuation or construction expert or professional, like a quantity surveyor, qualified valuer, or builder
- the valuation was done before the loss
- the valuation separately identifies the replacement value for all retaining walls
